Conduct	of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide to you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.
	 We manage accounts for multiple clients, and we allocate our time based on each client's needs.
	Our firm earns more as we expand our client base and grow our assets under management, and we seek to balance our staffing with the individualized needs of each client.
	2. We do not receive compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products. However,
	Mr. Clewett, Mr. Riggs and Ms. Dewey are Registered Representatives of ACA Foreside and may recommend mutual funds that pay commissions (including 12(b)-1 fees, "trails", or other compensation) from the product sponsor. We along with ACA Foreside monitor Mr. Clewett's, Mr.
	Rigg's and Ms. Dewey's activities to mitigate any actual or potential conflicts of interest.
	3. A portion of Mr. Riggs' compensation is based on mutual fund sales for our proprietary funds (Conestoga Small, SMid, Mid and Discovery Funds)4. Some of the broker-dealers that we trade with allocate a portion of the commissions that our clients pay to be used by us to pay for research. These "soft dollar" arrangements help our firm make investment decisions, but they can have the effect of increasing clients' transaction costs.
	Conversation Starter. Ask your financial professional—
	How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?
	Additional information about conflicts of interest between CCA and its clients is available on Part 2 of our Form ADV, which is available here . ⁸
	How do your financial professionals make money?
	Our financial professionals receive a salary and may receive a discretionary bonus. Compensation is set with the intention of attracting and retaining highly qualified professionals. Compensation is based on a variety of factors, including the number, value and complexity of accounts under management, the performance of those accounts, and client satisfaction and retention. Please see the points 2. and 3. above for additional information regarding the compensation of Mr. Clewett and Mr. Riggs. ⁹
