

ITEM 1. INTRODUCTION

Lynx Capital Group Ltd is a SEC Registered Investment Adviser. Brokerage and investment management services and fees differ, it is important for the retail investor to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

ITEM 2. RELATIONSHIPS AND SERVICES

A. What investment services and advice can you provide me?

B. Description of Services

We are an investment adviser and provide investment advisory services rather than brokerage services. We manage client assets on a discretionary basis.

- Monitoring: We monitor your accounts on an ongoing basis as a part of our asset management services.
- Authority: We manage client accounts on a discretionary basis. With discretion you grant us the authority to determine the securities and amount to be bought or sold without your consent prior to each trade, (considering any restrictions placed on the account, if applicable).
- Additional Information: Please refer to our Form ADV, Part 2A brochure (Items 4 and 7 of Part 2A for a more detailed description of our investment advisory services.

ITEM 3. FEES, COSTS, CONFLICTS, AND STANDARD OF CONDUCT

A. What fees will I pay?

If you sign an investment management agreement (managed account), you will pay us an ongoing asset-based fee, based upon an agreed annual percentage rate which shall not exceed 1.5% of your assets under management (annually). Ongoing asset-based fees will be billed quarterly in arrears for the services rendered based upon the most recent quarter end market value. They will be debited directly from your custodial account upon notification to the custodian. Our fees do not vary based on the type of investment. Our fees reduce your investable assets and will be deducted from your account. The more assets you have in the advisory account, including cash, the more you will pay. This is a conflict of interest as it creates an incentive to increase the assets in your account in order to increase our fees. Fees and costs affect the value of your account over time. Please ask your financial professional to give you personalized information on the fees and costs that you will pay.

- As an investment advisory client, you will pay a quarterly management fee and no transaction-based commissions. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce the amount of money you make over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.
- Some investments such as mutual funds impose additional fees that will reduce the value of your investment over time.
- Our fees do vary and are negotiable. The amount you pay will depend, for example, on how much you initially invest with us.
- The Custodian may charge additional charges on to you such as transaction fees, custodial fees, account maintenance fees, and account inactivity fees.

We may offer certain clients the ability to invest in Rampart Funds who are managed by Boca, Inc. Because Lynx recommends the purchase of Rampart to some clients, and Brian Chait controls both Lynx and Boca, Inc., as well as Rampart, this results in one or more conflicts of interest. As a result of these relationships, Brian Chait, indirectly, will receive compensation from Rampart as a result of Boca’s role as Investment Manager to Rampart. This means that Brian Chait has an incentive to recommend that Lynx clients purchase partnership interests in Rampart, even if such an investment would not be appropriate for such a client. In order to address these potential conflicts of interest, Lynx has adopted a Code of Ethics and compliance policies and procedures to monitor client accounts that are invested in the Rampart Fund to make sure it is in the client’s best interests.

- Conversation Starter: Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will you invest for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when providing recommendations? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means. (ii) Examples of Ways You Make Money and Conflicts of Interest: (a) Proprietary Products: We do not offer advice only with respect to proprietary or a limited menu of products; (b) Third-Party Payments: We do not utilize the services of third parties in the management of client accounts; (c) Revenue Sharing: We do not have any revenue sharing agreement; (d) Principal Trading: Investments we buy from a retail investor, and/or investments we sell to a retail investor, for or from our own accounts, respectively. We do not execute principal transactions.

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Investment advisor representatives receive a quarterly fee based upon your account's market value. The fee will increase as your account value increases and decreases if your account value decreases. Managed accounts are not charged any commissions, so the investment advisor representative only receives the quarterly fee.

It is important to understand the differences between a brokerage commission-based account and an asset-based fee account.

an asset-based fee if you want continuing advice or want someone to make investment decisions for you, even though it may cost more than a transaction-based fee.	a transaction-based fee from a cost perspective, if you do not trade often or if you plan to buy and hold investments for longer periods of time.
