

Form CRS - Customer Relationship Summary June 9, 2020

Item 1- Introduction

Horiko Capital Management LLC (“HCM”) is a registered investment advisor with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”). Fees assessed for investment advisory services differ from brokerage fees. It is important for you as a retail investor to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available for you to use at Investor.gov/CRS, a website maintained by the SEC. These tools can provide you with educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

Item 2 - Relationship and Services

What investment services and advice can we provide you?

HCM provides discretionary investment advisory services on a separate managed account basis to Retail Clients (“Retail Managed Client” or “Retail Managed Account(s)” or “Account(s)”). HCM’s investment strategies for Retail Accounts are specific to the investment mandate, objectives and guidelines, risk tolerance, and any restrictions on types or specific issues of securities are stated in a “Statement of Investment Policy” of the investment advisory agreement. Through the investment advisory agreement, you will grant HCM discretionary authority to direct and purchase and sell securities for your Account and the full power to direct, manage, and change the investment and reinvestment of the assets in the Account, the proceeds and any additions. Investment advice to you is limited to the terms of the Statement of Investment Policy. HCM utilizes Interactive Brokers LLC (“IB”) as the custodian for your Account and to place all orders for the execution of transactions with IB, subject to an exclusive agreement between you and IB. HCM will have no authority to withdraw or transfer assets from Client’s account. The minimum Account size for a Retail Account is $5,000,000.

The President/Managing Member of HCM periodically reviews your Account for consistency with the terms of your Statement of Investment Policy and meets with you or contacts you to periodically to review the investment portfolio.

As a conversation starter, we encourage you to ask us on any of the below or other questions:

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education, and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3 - Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of Conduct

What fees will I pay?

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. HCM’s Retail Managed Accounts are only charged an annualized asset-based fee of 1.5% of the assets under management. The fee is payable quarterly (covering the preceding month) within ten (10) days after the end of the applicable month for which payment is made to HCM as authorized through your investment advisory agreement.

In addition to the asset-based fee paid to HCM, your Account will incur brokerage commissions, custodial fees, stock transfer fees, transaction fees, charges imposed directly by mutual, index or exchange-traded funds, certain deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees and other similar charges incurred in connection with transactions for your Account that are imposed by unaffiliated third parties and will be paid out of the assets in your Account.

What are our legal obligations to you when we are acting as your investment adviser? How else do we make money and what conflicts of interest do we have?

*When we act as your investment adviser, we must act as a fiduciary to your investment advisory services, in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice, we provide you. Here is an example to understand what this means. *The more assets in your Account, the more you will pay in fees and HCM may therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account.

HCM does not charge any other fees to Retail Clients and does not charge fees on the sale of investment products, nor does it currently maintain shared fee arrangements with any third parties. HCM currently manages accounts as an Institutional Investment Adviser for two un-affiliated funds and earns fixed management fees. This client relationship incorporates a different investment strategy than Retail Clients and does not impose any conflict of interests with you. HCM will refrain from rendering any advice or services concerning securities of companies in which HCM may have substantial economic interest or other conflict, unless HCM discloses such conflict to you before providing such advice or services with respect to Retail Managed Accounts.

As a conversation starter, we encourage you to ask us on any of the below or other questions:

- Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?
- How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do our financial professionals make money?

The CEO of the firm is the sole owner of HCM and benefits from any profits derived as the principal owner. All employees are compensated based on salary with bonus incentives. The bonuses are calculated based on various factors – they can be individual goal-based, or firm goal-based and can be tied to the success and growth of the firm.
