

We are registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission as an investment adviser. Brokerage and investment advisory services fees differ and it is important for you to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at <http://investor.gov/crs>, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

Our firm offers investment advisory services, which are fully described in our Form ADV Part 2A (“Disclosure Brochure”). Our services include investment management, consulting, investment advisory and other services. As part of our investment management services, we monitor client portfolios on a continuous and ongoing basis. Investment consulting recommendations, however, are not actively monitored, unless specifically agreed upon. We accept discretionary and/or non-discretionary authority to implement the recommended transactions in client accounts. The level of discretion is determined in our agreement and there are no material limitations on the authority. For non-discretionary services, you make the ultimate decision regarding the purchase or sale of investments. We do not offer advice only with respect to proprietary products. We offer advice on alternative investment vehicles, exchange-traded funds, mutual funds, independent investment managers, individual debt and equity securities, derivatives and/or other securities or investments in accordance with the clients’ individual investment objectives. We may recommend that certain clients invest in private placement investments, which may include, without limitation, debt, equity, and/or pooled investment vehicles when consistent with the clients’ investment objectives. Our services are not subject to a minimum fee or account size.

Additional information about our services can be found in Items 4, 5 and 7 of our Disclosure Brochure and available to all clients or by going here: <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/153016>

Let’s discuss...

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

We offer our services on a fee basis. We charge a fixed or hourly fee for investment consulting and a fee based upon asset under management for investment management and wealth management services. The frequency and manner in which these asset based fees are charged (e.g., monthly / quarterly, in advance / arrears) varies based on our individual negotiations with our clients.

In addition to the advisory fees paid to us, you also incur certain charges imposed by third parties, such as broker-dealers, custodians, etc. These additional charges can include custodial fees, fees charged by independent managers, charges imposed directly by a mutual fund, exchange-traded fund, or private fund, which are disclosed in the fund’s prospectus or private placement memorandum (e.g., fund management fees, performance related fees, and other fund expenses), deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Additionally, you could incur brokerage commissions and transaction fees. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to our fee.

The more assets there are in your advisory accounts, the more you will pay in fees, so the firm may therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account or manage them in a way where the firm charge higher fees. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. Additional information about our fees can be found in Item 5 of our Disclosure Brochure and available to all clients or by going here: <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/153016>

Let’s discuss... Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

- Proprietary Products: We may recommend investments in private funds that are managed by us. This results in an incentive for us to recommend (initially and ongoing) that investment
- Affiliated Investment Adviser: Our firm is under common control with an affiliated SEC registered investment adviser, GKFO, LLC (“GKFO”). Our principal and certain supervised persons also serve in the same or similar capacities for GKFO. A conflict of interest exists to the extent that we recommend the services of GKFO and our principal or supervised persons receive a portion of the investment advisory fees or other additional compensation by virtue of their position with GKFO. Our investment process is structured to provide recommendations that are made in our clients’ best interest.
- Affiliated Investment Adviser: Our firm owns a 30% interest in an affiliated SEC registered investment adviser which serves institutional investors, StoneRidge Investment Partners, LLC (“SRIP”). The ownership arrangement between our firm and SRIP entitles Forefront to three out of ten board seats. Our firm is also under an investment management agreement with SRIP to provide services in a non-discretionary capacity. By virtue of our agreement with SRIP our principal serves as Co-Chief Investment Officer of SRIP and certain supervised persons serve SRIP in the same or similar capacities as our firm. A conflict of interest exists to the extent that we recommend the services of SRIP and Forefront receives a portion of the investment advisory fees or other additional compensation or benefit by virtue of its position with SRIP.

Let’s discuss... How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

Additional information about our conflicts of interest can be found throughout our Disclosure Brochure and available to all clients or by going here: <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/153016>

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are compensated based on the following factors and conflicts of interest:

- The amount of client assets they service. This results in an incentive to favor clients with more assets being serviced.
- Revenue the firm earns from the financial professional’s advisory services or recommendations. This results in an incentive to take steps to maximize revenue to the firm.

Additional information about our financial professionals can be found on their respective Form ADV Part 2 Brochure Supplements that you will be provide d.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?
