Introduction

Our firm, Legacy Financial Advisors, Inc., is registered as an investment adviser with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and it is important for you to understand these differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

Relationships and Services

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

Services: We offer investment advisory services to retail investors. These services include wealth management which is a combination of financial planning and investment management. We may also offer financial planning as a stand-alone service. We work closely with you to identify your investment goals, objectives, risk tolerance, time horizons, and financial situation to create a portfolio strategy to develop an investment approach.

Accounts, Investments, and Monitoring: We provide services to individual, joint, retirement, trust, and estate accounts. We primarily use mutual funds, exchange-traded funds, stocks, and bonds in constructing portfolios. We do not make available or offer advice with respect to only proprietary products or a limited menu of products or types of investments. As part of our standard services, we monitor portfolios and securities in accounts on a regular and continuous basis. We also offer to meet with you at least annually, or more frequently, depending on your needs.

Investment Authority: We provide our services on a perpetual and discretionary basis. We execute investment recommendations in accordance with your investment objectives without your prior approval of each specific transaction. Our engagement will continue until you notify us otherwise in writing.

Account Minimums & Other Requirements: We require a relationship size minimum of $500,000 in order for you to open/maintain an account or establish a relationship. However, we may reduce our minimum relationship size based upon certain criteria (i.e. additional assets, anticipated future earning capacity, related accounts, or negotiations with the client).

Additional Information: For more detailed information on our relationships and services, please see Item 4 – Advisory Services, Item 13 – Review of Accounts and Item 7 – Types of Clients of our Form ADV Part 2A available via our firm's Investment Adviser Public Disclosure Page.

Conversation Starters: Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not? How will you choose investments to recommend to me? What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of Conduct

What fees will I pay?

Asset-Based Fees: Our asset-based fees for investment management services range are based on a tiered fee schedule. This fee is collected on a quarterly basis and calculated as a percentage of the value of the cash and investments in your account[s] that we manage. This presents a conflict of interest as we are financially incentivized to encourage you to place more assets in your advisory account as you will ultimately pay more in advisory fees. In addition, we charge a performance reporting fee for advisory services that is the greater of a flat dollar fee or asset-based fee per client account.

Fixed Fees: Our fixed project-based fees for standalone financial planning are invoiced and due upon completion of the agreed upon deliverable[s]. Fixed fees are negotiable based on the nature and complexity of the services to be provided and the overall relationship with us. We provide you with an estimate of the total cost prior to engaging us for these services.

Other Fees & Costs: In addition to our advisory fee, you will also be responsible for custody fees, account administrative fees, fees and expenses related to mutual funds and exchange-traded funds, and applicable securities transaction fees.

Additional Information: You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. For more detailed information on our fees, please see Item 5 – Fees and Compensation of our Form ADV Part 2A available via our firm's Investment Adviser Public Disclosure Page.

Conversation Starters: Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser?
How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interests ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

The principal owners of our firm are also the sole owners of Bridge Partners, LLC ("Bridge Partners"), an affiliated life insurance company. This creates a conflict of interest because the principal owners share in the profits of Bridge Partners and benefit from transactions implemented through the company. Therefore, we have an incentive to recommend the services of Bridge Partners to our clients.

As part of a client's overall financial plan, our financial advisors may recommend implementing certain commission-based insurance products through Bridge Partners. In such cases, our advisors will receive additional compensation for their role in the financial planning and implementation process. Therefore, our advisors have a financial incentive to recommend that you implement insurance products through Bridge Partners.

We utilize unaffiliated third-party solicitors to solicit prospective clients and pay such solicitors a percentage of the fees earned from clients they refer to us. This creates a conflict of interest because the solicitors have an incentive to recommend our advisory services over those of other investment advisers.

We will recommend that you open your account with a specific custodian where we maintain an institutional relationship and receive economic benefits. The receipt of economic benefits presents a conflict of interest and can influence our recommendation of the custodian to you. However, you ultimately decide where to open your accounts. Choosing a different custodian may result in the loss of quality of service and/or ability to obtain favorable prices.

Additional Information: For more detailed information, please see Item 10 – Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations, Item 12 – Brokerage Practices and Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation of our Form ADV Part 2A available via our firm's Investment Adviser Public Disclosure Page.

Conversation Starters: How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are paid pursuant to a combination of salary and a bonus structure. The bonus structure takes into consideration factors such as the amount of client assets they service, new clients obtained and/or an increase in client assets supervised by the professional, the time and complexity required to meet a client's needs, the product or services sold, and the revenue the firm earns from the financial professional's advisory services recommendations. This means financial professionals have an incentive to increase the asset size in the relationship, solicit new business, and make recommendations based on bonus compensation factors rather than on a client's needs. Furthermore, in certain situations, our financial professionals are compensated through our affiliated insurance company as described above.
