Item 1. Introduction	Standard Investments LLC (the “Firm”) is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) as an investment adviser. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ, and it is important for you to understand these differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.
Item 2. Relationships and Services	What investment services and advice can you provide me? The Firm conducts research, provides investment advice and trades securities on a non-discretionary basis on behalf of a certain limited number of separately managed accounts (“SMAs”). SMAs primarily invest in single name equities, equity indices, and private funds managed by third-party advisers. The investment decisions for each SMA are at the discretion of the individual who owns the relevant SMA. Each SMA executes its transactions using brokers selected in advance by the account holder. Each SMA account holder is related to one of the Firm’s Principals and is supported by a chief operating officer. Monitoring The Firm provides continuous oversight and monitoring services for SMAs. The chief operating officer provides monitoring and reporting services tailored to the preferences of each SMA. Account statements for SMAs are provided directly by their respective custodians. In the event the Firm receives authorization to make class action participation requests on behalf of SMAs, or inadvertently receives proxy voting materials for SMAs, the Firm will forward such documents to SMAs and instruct the sender to send such documents directly to SMAs in the future. Investment Authority The Firm does not have investment discretion for SMAs. All assets in an SMA are owned by the account holder who has the right to accept or reject the Firm’s investment recommendations. Limited Investment Offering The Firm does not categorically limit the types of advice or investments that it may determine to offer. Account Minimums and Other Requirements The Firm does not have a minimum size for SMAs, but minimum total investment commitments may be established in the future. Additional information about the Firm’s services is available on Part 2A (particularly Items 4 and 7) of our Form ADV, which is available at https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/160843. Conversation Starters. Ask your financial professional— <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?• How will you choose investments to recommend to me?• What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?
Item 3. Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of Conduct	A. What fees will I pay? SMAs do not pay a management fee or performance based compensation. Certain SMAs invest in third party funds whose managers typically charge: (i) an asset-based fee (that generally ranges from 0% to 2% annually) and (ii) an incentive allocation (that generally ranges from 10% to 20% of net capital appreciation of the investment for the year). The fee rates vary for each such underlying fund and in some cases higher rates may apply. In lieu of management fees or performance-based compensation, SMAs pay (1) an affiliated company controlled by the Firm’s Principals, certain expenses, costs, and fees relating to operating services and (2) the Firm for expenses incurred as a result of the Firm providing certain non-discretionary investment advisory services. Additional information about the Firm’s fees are included in Item 5 of Part 2A of Form ADV, available at https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/160843.
