

ITEM 1. INTRODUCTION AUGUST 06, 2026

ASK Capital Investment Managers, LLC ("ASK") is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an Investment Adviser. Brokerage and investment management services and fees differ, it is important for the retail investor to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

ITEM 2. RELATIONSHIPS AND SERVICES

A. What investment services and advice can you provide me?

B. Description of Services

We are an investment adviser and provide investment advisory services rather than brokerage services. We manage client assets.

- Monitoring: As part of our normal services portfolio reviews are conducted at least annually or as agreed to by the client and ASK. Reviews will be conducted by Walter McNeer or Katy Pacheco.
- Authority: We manage client accounts on a discretionary basis. With discretion you grant us the authority to determine the securities and amount to be bought or sold without your consent prior to each trade, (considering any restrictions placed on the account, if applicable).
- Additional Information: Please refer to our Form ADV, Part 2A brochure (Items 4 and 7 of Part 2A or Items 4.A. and 5 of Part 2A Appendix 1) for a more detailed description of our investment advisory services.

ITEM 3. FEES, COSTS, CONFLICTS, AND STANDARD OF CONDUCT

A. What fees will I pay?

If you sign an investment management agreement (managed account), you will pay us an asset-based, based upon an agreed annual percentage rate. Client accounts are charged a negotiated fee of 1.0%-2.0%. Fees are billed quarterly in arrears, based on the value of the cash and investments in your advisory account and are deducted from the client's brokerage account. We manage client assets through a wrap fee program. With a wrap fee program, fees will include most transaction costs and fees to a broker-dealer or bank that has custody of these assets and therefore are higher than a typical asset-based advisory fee. Our fees do not vary based on the type of investment. Our fees reduce your investable assets and will be deducted from your account. The more assets you have in the advisory account, including cash, the more you will pay. This is a conflict of interest as it creates an incentive to increase the assets in your account in order to increase our fees. Fees and costs affect the value of your account over time. Please ask your financial professional to give you personalized information on the fees and costs that you will pay.

- As an investment advisory client, you will pay a quarterly management fee and no transaction-based commissions. We manage client assets through a wrap fee program. Through the wrap fee program, you will pay an asset-based fees. This wrap fee will include most transaction costs and fees to the custodian/broker-dealer or bank that has custody of your assets. In some cases, the asset based fees associated with a wrap fee program are higher than a non-wrap fee program. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.
- Some investments such as mutual funds impose additional fees that will reduce the value of your investment over time.
- Our fees do not vary but are negotiable. The amount you pay will depend, for example, on how much you buy or sell, what type of investment you buy or sell, and what kind of account you have with us.

Conversation Starter: Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will you invest for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means. (ii) Examples of Ways You Make Money and Conflicts of Interest: (a) Proprietary Products: We do not offer advice only with respect to proprietary or a limited menu of products; (b) Third-Party Payments: We do not receive compensation from third parties; (c) Revenue Sharing: We do not have any revenue sharing agreements; (d) Principal Trading: Investments we buy from a retail investor, and/or investments we sell to a retail investor, for or from our own accounts, respectively. We do not execute principal transactions;

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Investment advisor representatives receive a quarterly fee based upon your account's market value. The fee will increase as your account value increases and decreases if your account value decreases. Managed accounts are not charged any commissions, so the investment advisor representative only receives the quarterly fee. It is important to understand the differences between a brokerage commission-based account and an asset-based fee account.

a transaction-based fee from a cost perspective, if you do not trade often or if you plan to buy and hold investments for longer periods of time.

ITEM 4. DISCIPLINARY HISTORY
