

We are Viking Harbour Investment Solutions Limited, an investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Investment advisory and brokerage services and fees differ, and it is important for you to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing. Our firm and financial professionals' registration information are also publicly available on the Investor.gov website.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We provide model portfolios to third party financial services firms for their use and implementation. In addition, we offer our sub-advised model portfolio management services to retail investors. We offer advice with respect to the composition of model portfolios, which may include equities, fixed income, ETFs, and similar investments. Our sub-advised services are provided on a discretionary basis, which means that we have the power to buy and sell securities for your account without your prior consent. This authority is usually unlimited and remains in effect until you revoke it. We do not give advice on any proprietary investment products.

We provide continuous and regular supervision of sub-advised client assets as part of our standard service to you. In addition, we will conduct ad hoc reviews based upon significant market and economic events.

We require a minimum account size of $25,000, which can be at our discretion.

Other Questions You May Have

Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?

How will you choose investments to recommend to me?

What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education, and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

Our quarterly fees are calculated as a percentage of the assets committed to our model portfolios when we act as a model provider, or assets under our management when we act as a sub-adviser, so our fees will rise and fall with the value of the assets we manage. As a result, we are economically incented to recommend that you place more assets in your account in order to increase the value of your portfolio, because as the value increases, so do our fees.

In addition to our fees, you may be charged transaction or asset-based fees by your custodian for its services. These fees vary depending on the custodian. Under a transaction fee arrangement, the more transactions effected in your account, the more fees you will pay, and high activity in your account does not assure positive portfolio performance. For custodians that charge their fees based upon a percentage of your assets, such fees may be more than would be the case if you are charged a transaction-based fee. Please be mindful of the effect of your portfolio size, the level of activity, and the rate of custodian asset-based pricing. Generally, large portfolios would be disadvantaged by paying an asset-based custodian fee versus a transaction-based fee. Some securities carry additional costs, such as mutual funds and ETFs.

There are additional fees such as internal fees and expenses charged by mutual funds (i.e., 12b-1 distribution fees and management fees that are assessed within the mutual fund) and exchange-traded funds, third-party separate account manager fees postage and handling, transfer taxes, SEC fees for sales of securities.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. You can find more information about our fees and costs under Item 5 of our Part 2A Brochure, available at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/328869>.

Other Questions You May Have

Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here is an example to help you understand what this means:

- Certain personnel of Viking Harbour may invest in the same or different securities as our clients in accordance with our Code of Ethics policies and procedures. Such personal securities transactions may raise conflicts of interest when we trade in a security that is owned by you or considered for purchase or sale for you.

Additional information regarding conflicts of interest can be found in Items 5, 10, 11, and 12 of our Part 2A Brochure, available at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/328869>.

Other Questions You May Have

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial advisors are paid either a percentage of the fees we collect from you or a salary and bonus. We are incentivized to recommend that you add additional assets to your advisory account. We do not receive non-cash compensation.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No. You can visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research our firm and financial professionals.

Other Questions You May Have

As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?

You can find additional information about our investment advisory services on our Part 2A Brochure, available at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/328869>.
