

Berlin Wealth Group Advisors

Client Relationship Summary – June 2025

Berlin Wealth Group Advisors is an investment advisor registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. Investment advisory and brokerage services and fees differ; therefore, it is important for you to understand the differences.

Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about investment advisers, broker-dealers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We offer investment advisory services to retail investors, including asset management and comprehensive financial planning, and standalone financial planning on a special basis. As part of our standard services, we monitor our clients' portfolio holdings and the overall asset allocation strategy on an annual basis, or when a situation would warrant a review based on market conditions or changes in client circumstances.

We offer our asset management services on a discretionary basis. Discretionary asset management allows us the limited authority to buy and sell investments in your account without asking your approval each time a transaction is placed. Our level of authority is determined at the beginning of our relationship with you but can be changed upon request.

While we can advise on any investment asset, our investment recommendations are primarily related to investments in exchange listed securities, foreign securities, corporate debt securities, commercial paper, CDs, municipal securities, mutual funds, United States government securities, and options in securities.

For additional information, please see our Form ADV Part 2A (with special emphasis on Items 4, 8, and 16), which can be found on the SEC website at adviserinfo.sec.gov. The firm CRD number is 330370.

Conversation Starters – Ask Your Financial Professional:

Given my financial situation, should I choose investment advisory services? Why or why not?

How will you choose investments to recommend to me?

What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

Principal Fees: We are compensated for providing the investment advisory services by charging an ongoing asset-based fee that ranges up to 3.00% per year and is based on the value of assets we manage for you, as well as the type and complexity of the investment management strategy employed as well as the size of your account and our overall client relationship. Please see our Form ADV Part 2A, Item 5 for the fee structure. Asset-based fees are charged monthly, in arrears, based on the value of portfolio assets of the account on the last business day of the billing period. The more assets there are in your advisory account, the more you will pay in fees, and we may therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account. Comprehensive financial planning is included as part of the overall investment advisory service to the client, and there is no separate fee charged for this service. Asset-based fees are negotiable at the discretion of Berlin Wealth Group Advisors, and may be waived or reduced for directors, officers, and employees of Berlin Wealth Group Advisors. Comprehensive financial planning is provided to investment advisory service clients at no additional charge. In addition to a management fee, qualified clients may enter into an agreement where Berlin Wealth Group Advisors is entitled to a performance fee of up to 20% of any gains in the client account in excess of the S&P 500 index quarterly. Please see our Form ADV Part 2A, Item 6 for the performance-based fee structure.

Standalone financial planning service clients will be charged on an hourly fee basis of USD $200 per hour. Financial planning service fees are payable in advance, based on the anticipated number of hours required to complete the financial plan or project.

Other Fees and Costs: Berlin Wealth Group Advisors' fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which shall be incurred by the client. You may incur certain charges imposed by custodians and brokers, such as custodial fees, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Exchange-traded fund (ETF) products and mutual funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in the funds' prospectuses. These fees will generally include a management fee and other fund expenses. All fees paid to Berlin Wealth Group Advisors for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by ETFs and mutual funds to their shareholders.

Additional Information: You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce the amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. More detailed information about our fees and costs are included in our Form ADV Part 2A (Item 5).

Conversation Starter – Ask Your Financial Professional:

Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

Berlin Wealth Group Advisors and its Investment Advisor Representatives may from time to time purchase or sell products they recommend to clients. This creates a conflict of interest in that Berlin Wealth Group Advisors and its personnel can take advantage of the advance knowledge of firm securities trading and trade their personal accounts ahead of the client trades or recommend trades in client accounts that may affect the price of securities owned by the Investment Advisor Representatives. This conflict of interest is mitigated by a Code of Ethics that sets forth the basic policies of ethical conduct for all personnel at Berlin Wealth Group Advisors, and which is intended to ensure that securities transactions by Investment Advisor Representatives are conducted in a manner that avoids any conflict of interest between such persons and clients of Berlin Wealth Group Advisors.

Berlin Wealth Group Advisors and its Investment Advisor Representatives are allowed to invest for their own accounts in the same securities that we recommend or acquire for your account, and may engage in transactions that are the same or different than transactions recommended or made for you. This creates a conflict of interest that we mitigate by maintaining a Code of Ethics and compliance program and that sets forth a standard of conduct that must be adhered to by all Berlin Wealth Group Advisors personnel. These arrangements and additional information about other conflicts of interest are discussed in more detail in our Form ADV Part 2A (with special emphasis on Items 10 and 11).

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our Investment Advisor Representatives are compensated through the receipt of a portion of revenue we receive for the advisory services we provide. The portion paid to your Investment Advisor Representative generally does not vary based on the type of investments that are recommended. However, as described above, Investment Advisor Representatives of the firm also receive performance-based fees and management fees related to the firm's management of client accounts.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No. We invite you to visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research our Firm and financial professionals.
