IAPD Information About Representatives

IAPD offers information on all current-and many former representatives. Investors are strongly encouraged to use IAPD to check the background of representatives before deciding to conduct, or continue to conduct, business with them.

What is included in a IAPD report?

IAPD reports for individual representatives include information such as employment history, professional qualifications, disciplinary actions, criminal convictions, civil judgments and arbitration awards.

It is important to note that the information contained in an IAPD report may include pending actions or allegations that may be contested, unresolved or unproven. In the end, these actions or allegations may be resolved in favor of the representative, or concluded through a negotiated settlement with no admission or finding of wrongdoing.

Where did this information come from?

The information contained in IAPD comes from the Investment Adviser Registration Depository (IARD) and FINRA's Central Registration Depository, or CRD, (see more on CRD below) and is a combination of:

- information the states require representatives and firms to submit as part of the registration and licensing process, and
- information that state regulators report regarding disciplinary actions or allegations against representatives.

How current is this information?

Generally, representatives are required to update their professional and disciplinary information in IARD within 30 days.

Need help interpreting this report?

For help understanding how to read this report, please consult NASAA's IAPD Tips page <http://www.nasaa.org/IAPD/IARReports.cfm>

What if I want to check the background of an Individual Broker or Brokerage Firm?

To check the background of an Individual Broker or Brokerage firm, you can search for the firm or individual in IAPD. If your search is successful, click on the link provided to view the available licensing and registration information in FINRA's BrokerCheck website.

Are there other resources I can use to check the background of investment professionals?

It is recommended that you learn as much as possible about an individual representative or Investment Adviser firm before deciding to work with them. Your state securities regulator can help you research individuals and certain firms doing business in your state. The contact information for state securities regulators can be found on the website of the North American Securities Administrators Association <http://www.nasaa.org>

Disclosure Summary

Disclosure Information

What you should know about reported disclosure events:

(1) Certain thresholds must be met before an event is reported to IARD, for example:

- A law enforcement agency must file formal charges before an Investment Adviser Representative is required to report a particular criminal event.;
- A customer dispute must involve allegations that an Investment Adviser Representative engaged in activity that violates certain rules or conduct governing the industry and that the activity resulted in damages of at least $5,000.

(2) Disclosure events in IAPD reports come from different sources:

As mentioned in the "About IAPD" section on page 1 of this report, information contained in IAPD comes from Investment Adviser Representatives, firms and regulators. When more than one of these sources reports information for the same disclosure event, all versions of the event will appear in the IAPD report. The different versions will be separated by a solid line with the reporting source labeled.

(3) There are different statuses and dispositions for disclosure events:

- A disclosure event may have a status of pending, on appeal, or final.
 - A "pending" disclosure event involves allegations that have not been proven or formally adjudicated.
 - A disclosure event that is "on appeal" involves allegations that have been adjudicated but are currently being appealed.
 - A "final" disclosure event has been concluded and its resolution is not subject to change.
- A final disclosure event generally has a disposition of adjudicated, settled or otherwise resolved.
 - An "adjudicated" matter includes a disposition by (1) a court of law in a criminal or civil matter, or (2) an administrative panel in an action brought by a regulator that is contested by the party charged with some alleged wrongdoing.
 - A "settled" matter generally represents a disposition wherein the parties involved in a dispute reach an agreement to resolve the matter. Please note that Investment Adviser Representatives and firms may choose to settle customer disputes or regulatory matters for business or other reasons.
 - A "resolved" matter usually includes a disposition wherein no payment is made to the customer or there is no finding of wrongdoing on the part of the Investment Adviser Representative. Such matters generally involve customer disputes.

(4) You may wish to contact the Investment Adviser Representatives to obtain further information regarding any of the disclosure events contained in this IAPD report.

DISCLOSURE EVENT DETAILS

When evaluating this information, please keep in mind that some items may involve pending actions or allegations that may be contested and have not been resolved or proven. The event may, in the end, be withdrawn, dismissed, resolved in favor of the Investment Adviser Representative, or concluded through a negotiated settlement with no admission or finding of wrongdoing.

This report provides the information exactly as it was reported to the Investment Adviser Registration Depository. Some of the specific data fields contained in the report may be blank if the information was not provided.

The following types of events are disclosed about this representative:

Type	Count
Customer Dispute	1

Customer Dispute

This section provides information regarding a customer dispute that was reported to the Investment Adviser Registration Depository (IARD) by the Investment Adviser Representative (IAR), an investment adviser and/or securities firm, and/or a securities regulator. The event may include a consumer-initiated, investment-related complaint, arbitration proceeding or civil suit that contains allegations of sales practice violations against the individual.

The customer dispute may be pending or may have resulted in a civil judgment, arbitration award, monetary settlement, closure without action, withdrawal, dismissal, denial, or other outcome.

Disclosure 1 of 1

Reporting Source: Individual

Employing firm when activities occurred which led to the complaint: MinichMacgregor Wealth Management

Allegations: On November 1, 2023 Clients' son filed a complaint with the NY Attorney General's Office which Complaint was subsequently re-filed with the NY State Department of Financial Services on April 24, 2024. Clients allege that MinichMacGregor Wealth Management and Principal Jim Minich charged incorrect management fees from 1994-2023 greater than the stated rate of 1%. Clients also allege misleading and misrepresentation of their financial affairs and assert that the brokerage account summaries had performance metrics removed and investment results over any period removed from annual and monthly reports. Clients also allege mismanagement and abandonment of accounts. Clients allege that James Minich started a new annuity in 2004 and then ceased trading in the account in 2015, and removed themselves as advisor in 2017 and the annuity has not had a financial advisor managing the investments for the last 9 years, and was placed as a house account for the last 7 years, despite being listed by MinichMacGregor as one of the accounts they manage. Clients also allege a violation of fiduciary duty and asserted that Jim Minich recommended an annuity for clients when they were 80 years old and assert that the fees associated with new annuities make it an irresponsible choice for 80-year-olds.

Broker Statement

Representative adamantly denies all wrongdoing which was asserted many years after the fact by the son of customers. Additionally, documents refute the allegations. The IMA signed by clients clearly provided that the fee to be charged, as of 2009, was 1.5%. A 2018 addendum reduced that fee to 1.32%. In 2023, owing to the parties' disagreement and as a show of good faith, that fee was then further reduced to 0.75% (notwithstanding the clients' handwritten note thereon that the fee was initially 1.0%). As it relates to the allegation that the advisory firm was hiding investment performance data, it is noted that the brokerage statements never had performance data for the clients. Finally, in regards to the allegation that it was an "irresponsible choice" for an 80-year-old to change annuities. Clients' assertion is a generality, which may be true in some circumstances and false in others. In this case, the only annuity the clients owned was from Pacific Life, purchased in 2004. In 2022, the idea of changing their annuity to the Nationwide Monument Advisor annuity was discussed. This annuity had lower management fees than their then-current Pacific Life annuity, together with no change fees. Consequently, the clients would begin saving money immediately.
