Disclosure Summary

Disclosure Information

What you should know about reported disclosure events:

(1) Certain thresholds must be met before an event is reported to IARD, for example:

- A law enforcement agency must file formal charges before an Investment Adviser Representative is required to report a particular criminal event.;
- A customer dispute must involve allegations that an Investment Adviser Representative engaged in activity that violates certain rules or conduct governing the industry and that the activity resulted in damages of at least $5,000.

(2) Disclosure events in IAPD reports come from different sources:

As mentioned in the "About IAPD" section on page 1 of this report, information contained in IAPD comes from Investment Adviser Representatives, firms and regulators. When more than one of these sources reports information for the same disclosure event, all versions of the event will appear in the IAPD report. The different versions will be separated by a solid line with the reporting source labeled.

(3) There are different statuses and dispositions for disclosure events:

- A disclosure event may have a status of pending, on appeal, or final.
  - A "pending" disclosure event involves allegations that have not been proven or formally adjudicated.
  - A disclosure event that is "on appeal" involves allegations that have been adjudicated but are currently being appealed.
  - A "final" disclosure event has been concluded and its resolution is not subject to change.
- A final disclosure event generally has a disposition of adjudicated, settled or otherwise resolved.
  - An "adjudicated" matter includes a disposition by (1) a court of law in a criminal or civil matter, or (2) an administrative panel in an action brought by a regulator that is contested by the party charged with some alleged wrongdoing.
  - A "settled" matter generally represents a disposition wherein the parties involved in a dispute reach an agreement to resolve the matter. Please note that Investment Adviser Representatives and firms may choose to settle customer disputes or regulatory matters for business or other reasons.
  - A "resolved" matter usually includes a disposition wherein no payment is made to the customer or there is no finding of wrongdoing on the part of the Investment Adviser Representative. Such matters generally involve customer disputes.

(4) You may wish to contact the Investment Adviser Representatives to obtain further information regarding any of the disclosure events contained in this IAPD report.

Sanction(s) Sought: Other: N/A

Date Initiated: 06/30/2025

Docket/Case Number: 2022074296701

Employing firm when activity occurred which led to the regulatory action: Whitehall-Parker Securities, Inc.

Product Type: Other: Corporate bonds

Allegations: Without admitting or denying the findings, Everhart consented to the sanctions and to the entry of findings that he willfully violated Rule 15l-1(a)(1) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (Reg BI) by recommending that a retail customer invest in speculative, unrated corporate bonds sold by a publicly traded financial services company. The findings stated that Everhart's recommendation resulted in at least 40 percent of the customer's net worth, not including primary residence, being invested in the bonds. This recommendation was not in the customer's best interest based on her investment profile that included a conservative risk tolerance, did not include speculation, and a stated investment objective of income and conservation of capital. Everhart earned $7,500 in commission in connection with this recommendation. Subsequently, after Everhart's customer made her investment in the bonds, the selling company defaulted on its obligations to the bond's investors and suspended further sales of the bonds. Ultimately, the company filed for bankruptcy.
