Disclosure Summary

Disclosure Information

What you should know about reported disclosure events:

(1) Certain thresholds must be met before an event is reported to IARD, for example:

- A law enforcement agency must file formal charges before an Investment Adviser Representative is required to report a particular criminal event.;
- A customer dispute must involve allegations that an Investment Adviser Representative engaged in activity that violates certain rules or conduct governing the industry and that the activity resulted in damages of at least $5,000.

(2) Disclosure events in IAPD reports come from different sources:

As mentioned in the "About IAPD" section on page 1 of this report, information contained in IAPD comes from Investment Adviser Representatives, firms and regulators. When more than one of these sources reports information for the same disclosure event, all versions of the event will appear in the IAPD report. The different versions will be separated by a solid line with the reporting source labeled.

(3) There are different statuses and dispositions for disclosure events:

- A disclosure event may have a status of pending, on appeal, or final.
  - A "pending" disclosure event involves allegations that have not been proven or formally adjudicated.
  - A disclosure event that is "on appeal" involves allegations that have been adjudicated but are currently being appealed.
  - A "final" disclosure event has been concluded and its resolution is not subject to change.
- A final disclosure event generally has a disposition of adjudicated, settled or otherwise resolved.
  - An "adjudicated" matter includes a disposition by (1) a court of law in a criminal or civil matter, or (2) an administrative panel in an action brought by a regulator that is contested by the party charged with some alleged wrongdoing.
  - A "settled" matter generally represents a disposition wherein the parties involved in a dispute reach an agreement to resolve the matter. Please note that Investment Adviser Representatives and firms may choose to settle customer disputes or regulatory matters for business or other reasons.
  - A "resolved" matter usually includes a disposition wherein no payment is made to the customer or there is no finding of wrongdoing on the part of the Investment Adviser Representative. Such matters generally involve customer disputes.

(4) You may wish to contact the Investment Adviser Representatives to obtain further information regarding any of the disclosure events contained in this IAPD report.

Broker Statement

This claim was filed by a relative of the client who was paid the settlement that is reported on my CRD, which was paid for litigation cost-avoidance purposes by my broker-dealer with no contribution from me. This claimant now, after the relative's settlement, has approached my broker-dealer with allegations regarding transactions occurring as long as 20 years ago. It is nothing more than an effort to procure a similar "cost-avoidance" settlement like the relative's. There is no merit to this claim. It will be aggressively defended.

Disclosure 2 of 2

Reporting Source: Individual

Employing firm when activities occurred which led to the complaint: ROYAL ALLIANCE ASSOCIATES, INC.

Allegations: Client alleges the Financial Professional misrepresented the interval fund.

Product Type: Other: Interval Fund

Alleged Damages: $5,000.00

Alleged Damages Amount Explanation (if amount not exact): Firm estimates that client alleged damages would exceed $5000

Is this an oral complaint? No

Is this a written complaint? Yes

Is this an arbitration/CFTC reparation or civil litigation? No

Customer Complaint Information

Date Complaint Received: 04/08/2023

Complaint Pending? No

Status: Settled

Status Date: 07/06/2023

Settlement Amount: $25,000.00

Individual Contribution Amount: $0.00

Broker Statement

The client was provided all pertinent information from me before making his own decision to purchase the interval fund. I discussed the product materials in depth with the client on multiple occasions prior to purchase. Despite expressing my reservations to the client, he proceeded with the purchase. After that, a market performance change impacted the client's account value and quarterly distributions. The client was unwilling to accept the changes in the market performance, despite having expressed his understanding of how the product worked. His frustration with the six-month market performance resulting in this complaint is without merit or factual basis.
