  - A disclosure event that is "on appeal" involves allegations that have been adjudicated but are currently being appealed.
  - A "final" disclosure event has been concluded and its resolution is not subject to change.
- A final disclosure event generally has a disposition of adjudicated, settled or otherwise resolved.
  - An "adjudicated" matter includes a disposition by (1) a court of law in a criminal or civil matter, or (2) an administrative panel in an action brought by a regulator that is contested by the party charged with some alleged wrongdoing.
  - A "settled" matter generally represents a disposition wherein the parties involved in a dispute reach an agreement to resolve the matter. Please note that Investment Adviser Representatives and firms may choose to settle customer disputes or regulatory matters for business or other reasons.

Broker Statement

Broker Comment: My clients, a husband and wife, were engaged in a bitter and acrimonious divorce. Prior to the divorce, the husband withdrew funds from a joint account to pay household expenses. The wife believed that the husband had no right to withdraw the funds from the joint account without her express written consent. The court disagreed with the wife. Prior to the court ruling, the wife filed this complaint saying I should not have allowed the husband to pull money out of an account he was legally authorized to access. ProEquities denied the complaint.
