Disclosure Summary

Disclosure Information

What you should know about reported disclosure events:

(1) Certain thresholds must be met before an event is reported to IARD, for example:

- A law enforcement agency must file formal charges before an Investment Adviser Representative is required to report a particular criminal event.;
- A customer dispute must involve allegations that an Investment Adviser Representative engaged in activity that violates certain rules or conduct governing the industry and that the activity resulted in damages of at least $5,000.

(2) Disclosure events in IAPD reports come from different sources:

As mentioned in the "About IAPD" section on page 1 of this report, information contained in IAPD comes from Investment Adviser Representatives, firms and regulators. When more than one of these sources reports information for the same disclosure event, all versions of the event will appear in the IAPD report. The different versions will be separated by a solid line with the reporting source labeled.

(3) There are different statuses and dispositions for disclosure events:

- A disclosure event may have a status of pending, on appeal, or final.
 - A "pending" disclosure event involves allegations that have not been proven or formally adjudicated.
 - A disclosure event that is "on appeal" involves allegations that have been adjudicated but are currently being appealed.
 - A "final" disclosure event has been concluded and its resolution is not subject to change.
- A final disclosure event generally has a disposition of adjudicated, settled or otherwise resolved.
 - An "adjudicated" matter includes a disposition by (1) a court of law in a criminal or civil matter, or (2) an administrative panel in an action brought by a regulator that is contested by the party charged with some alleged wrongdoing.
 - A "settled" matter generally represents a disposition wherein the parties involved in a dispute reach an agreement to resolve the matter. Please note that Investment Adviser Representatives and firms may choose to settle customer disputes or regulatory matters for business or other reasons.
 - A "resolved" matter usually includes a disposition wherein no payment is made to the customer or there is no finding of wrongdoing on the part of the Investment Adviser Representative. Such matters generally involve customer disputes.

(4) You may wish to contact the Investment Adviser Representatives to obtain further information regarding any of the disclosure events contained in this IAPD report.

Disclosure 1 of 2

Reporting Source: Individual

Employing firm when activities occurred which led to the complaint: Brazos Capital

Allegations: The situation involves a breach of trust in a currency trading program that promised to use trailing stop losses on all trades, as stated in their documentation and marketing materials. However, the trading algorithm was overridden, and the stop loss on one stock was moved, allowing losses to accumulate. When the trade was eventually closed, it resulted in a significant financial loss. The client also alleged mismanagement of a real estate investment in Oklahoma.

Product Type: Other: Currency Trading Program

Alleged Damages: $1,050,000.00

Is this an oral complaint? No

Is this a written complaint? Yes

Is this an arbitration/CFTC reparation or civil litigation? No

Customer Complaint Information

Date Complaint Received: 04/11/2024

Complaint Pending? No

Status: Settled

Status Date: 10/17/2024

Settlement Amount: $428,750.00

Individual Contribution Amount: $0.00

Broker Statement Unbeknownst to me, one of the operators or sponsors overrode the algorithm, moved the stop loss, and allowed the ATS to continue holding the position, which worsened the loss. We ultimately resolved the matter with the client through mediation. We maintain that we are not liable for the ATS's actions, as it was never disclosed that the algorithm could or would be overridden. During mediation, it was determined that the client had no definable loss on the real estate investment, as the business was still ongoing.
