Disclosure Summary

Disclosure Information

What you should know about reported disclosure events:

(1) Certain thresholds must be met before an event is reported to IARD, for example:

- A law enforcement agency must file formal charges before an Investment Adviser Representative is required to report a particular criminal event.;
- A customer dispute must involve allegations that an Investment Adviser Representative engaged in activity that violates certain rules or conduct governing the industry and that the activity resulted in damages of at least $5,000.

(2) Disclosure events in IAPD reports come from different sources:

As mentioned in the "About IAPD" section on page 1 of this report, information contained in IAPD comes from Investment Adviser Representatives, firms and regulators. When more than one of these sources reports information for the same disclosure event, all versions of the event will appear in the IAPD report. The different versions will be separated by a solid line with the reporting source labeled.

(3) There are different statuses and dispositions for disclosure events:

- A disclosure event may have a status of pending, on appeal, or final.
  - A "pending" disclosure event involves allegations that have not been proven or formally adjudicated.
  - A disclosure event that is "on appeal" involves allegations that have been adjudicated but are currently being appealed.
  - A "final" disclosure event has been concluded and its resolution is not subject to change.
- A final disclosure event generally has a disposition of adjudicated, settled or otherwise resolved.
  - An "adjudicated" matter includes a disposition by (1) a court of law in a criminal or civil matter, or (2) an administrative panel in an action brought by a regulator that is contested by the party charged with some alleged wrongdoing.
  - A "settled" matter generally represents a disposition wherein the parties involved in a dispute reach an agreement to resolve the matter. Please note that Investment Adviser Representatives and firms may choose to settle customer disputes or regulatory matters for business or other reasons.
  - A "resolved" matter usually includes a disposition wherein no payment is made to the customer or there is no finding of wrongdoing on the part of the Investment Adviser Representative. Such matters generally involve customer disputes.

(4) You may wish to contact the Investment Adviser Representatives to obtain further information regarding any of the disclosure events contained in this IAPD report.

Type	Count

Disclosure 1 of 1

Reporting Source: Individual

Employing firm when activities occurred which led to the complaint: Private Advisory Group LLC

Allegations: Private Advisory Group LLC (PAG) recommended various investments sponsored by Aequis which became insolvent in January 2016. PAG recommended these investments from approximately July 2014 through December 2015. Recommendations also took place through prior firms starting in about 2010. A group of investors have joined in filing this claim against a number of individuals previously and currently associated with PAG and with other entities involved in recommendations of Aequis products. The claim alleges breach of contract, makes claims under elder abuse statutes, securities law violations, and breach of fiduciary duty, and claims, contrary to extensive evidence, that the plaintiffs did not disclose their connections to the Aequis companies when making the recommendations. The allegations are frivolous and unsupported by facts. The customers came to our firm with the intention of investing in alternatives. Evidence supports our assertion that suitability requirements were met, proper due diligence was conducted, that the clients acknowledged in writing that they understood the risks of the investments. The claim ignores investments that performed at or above expectations. The named individuals all deny the claims. Since there were multiple parties as defendants, the defendants felt the best course of action was to settle all Aequis related claims in one sweeping class settlement or otherwise risk spending all the insurance coverage on defense (rather than being the primary contribution to the class settlement). As of November 2017, the case was settled and the proceeds are being distributed to all effected 1st quarter of 2018.

Product Type: Other: Various private placements issued by Aequis-related entities

Alleged Damages: $100,000,000.00

Alleged Damages Amount Explanation (if amount not exact):

This is a class action against numerous defendants and the suit requests $100 million in damages. There are multiple plaintiffs, only three of whom are identified as clients of PAG. The claim for damages contains no recognition of overall investment performance, which obviously distorts damages.

Civil Litigation Information

Type of Court:	Federal Court
Name of Court:	United States District Court of the State of Oregon
Location of Court:	Portland, OR
Docket/Case #:	3:17-cv-00869-MO
Date Notice/Process Served:	06/02/2017
Litigation Pending?	No
Disposition:	Settled
Disposition Date:	11/16/2017
Monetary Compensation Amount:	$6,150,000.00
Individual Contribution Amount:	$0.00

Broker Statement

This is related to a prior complaint and related DRP that was subsequently withdrawn. The settled claim contains a laundry-list of complaints against many individuals associated with several different firms and on behalf of a group of accredited investors who worked with different representatives. The parties deny the allegations. The representative, in his capacity as an officer of PAG, helped negotiate a settlement in which insurance proceeds were contributed to help mediate losses sustained. The representative did not contribute personally, admitted no wrongdoing, and denies all allegations.
